... KETACORE BRINGS YOU BEYOND
THE REALMS OF DOOM III IN AMSTERDAM

Ketacore Records is a record label and party organisation, with a fixed style or planning. Ketacore Records is a record label and party organisation, without a fixed style or planning. We don't like to hype our products with pseudo intelligent vocabulary about the depth of the emotional works of our genius artists. And we surely don't claim to be underground, intelligent, or hardcore.

We support (illegal) filesharing. So please download and spread the mp3s of our releases. You don't even have to buy those lovely pieces of vinyl to hear the music.
We'll loose a lot of money on this //www.ketacore.com

INTERVIEW WITH DAVID BIRCHALL:
CHASTITY POTATOE

me: hey !

David: hello, hows ting?

me: good, would you have a little time for the interview thing ?

David: ok yes lets do it. haha me: ok. what the fuck is a chastity potatoe ?

David: good question. it really comes from Luke Poot my co worker in thisband. is as i understand it his response to the post modern horror that passes for culture; specifically it has a reference to i think an interview with the danish filmmaker, yes lars von trier that he read and was particularly not ok with luke is better on the details. he only will only explain in detail about it when he is drunk me: ok, so we have to get him drunk on our amsterdam beers then. what other projects are you and luke involved in ?

David: he he i think its the best way to get the full philosphical weight of it ! really i guess its meant to highlight the difference between really bizarrehorrific stuff passing as high brow art and the idea of low brow grassroots stupidity that is chasitiy potatoe... ha ha ok so other projects: Luke is running a tape and cdr label called POOT records this started out in Hull and he put out a cdr some years ago of a free rock noise band i was in called Stuckometer. Luke has been working recently with Phil Minton in his feral singer groups and also with Phil and Jaap Blonk on a recent tour here. lots of wild vocal sounds. even at dinner times

David: other current stuff im working with this an old band playing bicycles called "Levenshulme Bicycle Orchestra" a few pieces of solo guitar work, improvising with people locally; a duo with great drummer andrew cheetham. ah yes last gig was as part of Nick Mitchells big pysch stoner jam band "Desmadrados de los soldas de Ventura". lots of wiggly guitar soloing black sabbath/ 70s blues rock me: david, what is your favorite dutch dish ?

David: ha maybe those sweet waffles? are they a dish? trying to think what ive eaten in holland before... falafel ha ha. im rolling round my chair giggling now... do you have a favourite english dish?

me: mushy peas

David: ahes classic, with vinegar

me: tell me something about the other bands you are touring with. what can we expect ?

David: yes Human Heads is Ben and Hannah they have made some really amazing projects in the past working in the borderland of improvising music. they bring an amazing aesthetic, applying theyselves i guess thinking as artists working with sound to a wide range of different instruments and sounds... ben has a real interest in sound poetry so he tends to work with voice, sounds derived from voice.. it will be a pretty amazing and open performance. Susan Fitzpatrick is playing in one of my favourite UK groups the duo Acrid Lactations with Stuart Arnot

David: they have a a kind of primitivist approach again to working with anything that comes to hand. it really reminds me of some of the open incredible jams form the art ensemble of chicago. also things like smegma, LA free music society are an influence too me: that sounds like it is going to be a good night of crazy and free music. we are looking forward to it. any last words ?

David: we are excited too! peace.
